County rate down despite property value reduction

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A new Madison County tax rate of 43.1 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the 1972 tax year (1973 collection) was announced Friday by County Clerk Eulalia Hotz.

The new rate is 7 of one cent less than the 1971 county tax rate of 43.8 cents despite a decrease of $28,788,086 in the 1972 property assessment.

Miss Hotz said the new tax rate which will be used as the basis of tax bills payable this summer was computed against a total property valuation of $967,677,409, compared to last year's assessments totaling $966,465,495.

The county clerk said this year's assessments include $946,810,830 in locally extended valuations, $18,402,709 in assessments of railroad property, $4,455,560 in capital stock values and $8,330 in the assessment of pollution control facilities.

These figures represent a decrease of $30,006,515 below last year's local level county assessments, an increase of $192,279 in railroad assessments, an increase of $1,057,800 in capital stock valuations, and an increase of $8,330 in the assessment of pollution control facilities, an item which was extended for the first time for the new tax year.

Miss Hotz said the county tax rate for this year's collection includes 9.78 cents for general fund purposes, down from the maximum rate of 10 cents extended for the general fund last year. The rate for the tuberculosis clinic increased one cent, from 3.67 cents a year ago to 4.67 cents for 1972.

Rate reductions occurred for highway and special bridge purposes, with the new rate set at 5.37 cents compared to 5.75 cents last year, and the new special bridge rate at 2.65 cents, compared to 2.81 cents a year ago.

Permit issued for soybean plant

A building permit to construct a soybean processing plant at a cost of $80,000 has been issued to Archer Daniels Midland Co. by the Madison County Building Department.

It will be located next to the Cargill grain elevator and will utilize the elevator.

The building to be constructed will be a small part of the full facility which will cost more than $1 million, according to company officials. Most of the production facilities will be out-of-doors.

The facility is to be annexed into Granite City to allow the use of city services.

The permit was one of 13 issued during April for construction in Nameoki and Chouteau Townships listing values totaling $186,900. Of the total, eight were for Nameoki Township at a cost of $120,400 and five were for Chouteau Township showing costs of $66,500.

Others obtaining permits in Nameoki Township were: Charles Garber, patio cover in New Haven Manor, $300; Willis Kitchen Jr., mobile home in Cloverleaf, $3,500; Susie Gorge, install aluminum siding in Sunnyside Place, $1,500; Bert Chapman, mobile home in Donna Place, $6,000.

Ralph Thompson, mobile home in Cloverleaf, $5,600; Robert Wallace, a home in Steelcrest Manor, $19,000; and Melvin Tomlinson, a garage in Stallings, $3,600.

Obtaining permits in Chouteau Township were: Russell Lewis, a home in Moan Acres, $15,000; Ralph Moehle, a storage shed for trucks and tractors, $5,000; Charles Lofink, a garage in First Morrison Estates, $2,500; Louis Hines, a storage shed for a bulldozer and heavy equipment, $8,000; and Robert LaVelle, a home in Paradise Acres, $16,000.

Airport seen as one—but not the biggest—casualty of Watergate

Antagonism toward U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy over his call for an independent prosecutor in the Watergate political espionage-sabotage scandal is widely regarded as diminishing hope that the Nixon administration will approve a major new Illinois airport opposite St. Louis.

John W. Dean III, fired last week as Presidential counsel, was quoted Saturday as saying that both Mr. Nixon and former Presidential domestic advisor John Ehrlichman congratulated him last September for his efforts to "cover up" the scope of questionable pro-Nixon campaign activity.

Dean's allegation is viewed as increasing the possibility that a serious effort will be made to remove the President despite the large number of current national issues he is dealing with, including a pending visit to the U. S. by top Soviet officials.

Sen. Percy's strong support of the proposed Waterloo-Columbia airport is now viewed as a factor in the approval of the plan, in view of reports that the federal administration is trying to damage Percy's prospects of securing the 1976 Presidential nomination.

Cong. Kenneth Gray (D, West Frankfort) has reported that Ehrlichman and new Federal Aviation Administrator Alexander Butterfield have assisted Gov. Christopher Bond of Missouri in swinging top-level political support away from an Illinois airport. Adviser Ehrlichman's resignation was accepted by Pres. Nixon April 30.

"Ehrlichman engineered this thing for Kit Bond," as Gray tells it. "Bond's contacts with the White House were effective in stalling the decision past the election last fall."

Another Illinois Congressman, Melvin Price (D, East St. Louis), was critical Friday of St. Louis Mayor John Poelker's letter Thursday to U. S. Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar withdrawing City of St. Louis support of an Illinois metropolitan airport.

Cong. Price, who represents this district, said, "I imagine it will be quite a shock to Illinois officials that the cooperation has been ended by this action."

Price said the St. Louis mayors' "parochial decision" could be "a setback for years" to the estimating the actual effect on airport. He added that political factors appear to be "taking the decision away from the FAA, although we were given assurances there would not be politics in this."

Among those said to be involved in delaying airport approval is Egli "Bud" Krogh Jr., 34, a former Ehrlichman aide who was under-secretary of transportation until taking a sudden leave of absence May 2. It

Big homestead impact on taxes

Concern is developing in the Quad-Cities and Madison County over the impact of homestead and personal property tax deductions from the overall assessed valuation.

Figures last month showed the Board of Review-approved county valuation decreasing only $555,700 for this summer's tax collections. But revised figures today show a $28,788,086 decrease.

The Granite City School District, for example, had been expecting an assessment drop of about $5 million but it now may be cut a total of $10,580,231.

Since tax levies are already fixed, based on actions in 1972, major valuation changes have a direct impact on tax rates. More details are to be assembled by the taxing bodies before the estimating the actual effect on

Port incinerator plan to go to municipalities here

A plan for construction of a garbage and refuse incinerator to serve the Quad-City area has been developed and will be presented soon to area mayors for their consideration, it was announced today.

The plan, which would provide for disposal of all types of refuse without need for extensive landfill operations, was announced by Dale Arnette, chairman of a committee of the United for Action program initiated several years ago by the Chamber of Commerce and area civic leaders.

Arnette said that he and committee members G. H. Sternberg, Granite City construction contractor, and Carl Ranft, manager of the Tri-City Regional Port District, have determined cost estimates and other project details to the extent that the committee is now prepared to seek commitments from area municipalities as to their use of such a facility.

He said a meeting with Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, Dr. John Lee of Venice and Mike Sasyk of Madison is to be arranged soon to consider the proposal.

Under the committee's plan, the incinerator could be constructed in the Tri-City Port District area at a cost approximating $1.8 million, Arnette said.

Present planning calls for installation of two units, each with a capacity of 200 tons of refuse per day.

He said the $1.8 million cost estimate is based on use of incinerator facilities using burning units built by the Illinois

Stoker Co., a division of Duncan Foundry & Machine Works. He said these have proved highly successful in other parts of the country.

According to Arnette, heat reaching up to 2,000 degrees is generated by the units, which require no fuel for operation because the fire is fed by a continuous input of refuse.

Maintenance cost is estimated at less than one cent per ton, he said.

Installation of the incinerator units could be financed through issuance of revenue bonds either by the Port District or by the cities themselves, Ranft said.

He said the Port District operates under legislation that would permit it to build the incinerator units, and then lease them for operation by other interests or by the cities. On the other hand, he said it is possible the cities would issue bonds to finance the installation.

Revenue bonds could be sold

Service awards will be presented to 84 employees of St. Elizabeth Hospital at an awards dinner Wednesday evening in the hospital cafeteria.

The employees banquet is one of several events taking place this week at the Granite City hospital celebrating National Hospital Week.

Today, flowers were delivered to the most senior woman and man patient by staff members and special "Church Day" messages were heard in most Quad-City churches yesterday.

Preceding the week-long celebration was a "Clergy Breakfast" in the hospital's Wiesman Room Thursday morning.

The Nurse Alumnae will sponsor a tea at the hospital Tuesday and on Thursday physicians will be honored at a special breakfast. A picnic cookout is planned for all staff employees later in the day.

Visitors at St. Elizabeth Hospital Friday will be served refreshments by auxiliary members, Candy Strippers and other volunteer workers, according to Sister Mary Thomas, administrator.

Hospital Week, which formally concludes Saturday, will be extended by 24 hours to encompass "Mother's Day" Sunday when the mother of the first infant born that day at St. Elizabeth's will be presented a dozen red roses and a layette for her new baby.

Bubblemasters plan Memorial Day dive

Plans for the Memorial Day weekend dive and underwater contests, to be sponsored May 26 to May 28 by the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City, will be reviewed at a club meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA.

Jack Richardson, Bubblemasters president, said the annual early summer dive will take place this year at Oakland Boat Dock on Bull Shoals Lake, Mo.

The event will feature an annual spearfishing contest which matches the Granite City divers against the Alton Masketeers Club, a treasure hunt and trophies for individual achievement.

Reports from the Mid-West Diving Council Convention held at Table Rock Lake, Mo., the past weekend, also will be presented at tomorrow night's session, Richardson said.

Several Bubblemasters attended the conference which included spearfishing competition Saturday and yesterday despite water temperatures remaining "very cold" and the lake level reportedly 25 feet higher than normal at this time of year.

Nominations for new board members will be accepted at the May business session, the club officer said.

Some local merchants have formed a unit of the National Check Systems Association to pool data from information, fed into a central computer, to provide up-to-date data linked with other trade areas.

A spokesman said the system "does not alienate good customers who just added wrong, but puts pressure on the true offender." The Tri-City Association is to expand to include stores in other areas from Alton to Belleville. The telephone at the chapter office is 314-645-3359.

Daniel Chuvich of Granite City, director of the emergency employment program in Madison County, expects the 55 jobs to continue until January, and perhaps beyond if a present funding bill is passed by Congress.

MORE ABOUT Airport

was Krogh who had been representing the department in coordinating information on the airport proposal.

Krogh, who helped set up a task force to trace White House news leaks after release of the "Pentagon papers," denied under oath in Senate confirmation hearings in February that he was involved in the Watergate "bugging" conspiracy.

But Krogh signed an affidavit Friday admitting he supervised burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Ellsberg is one of those being tried for alleged stealing secret military documents and giving information to them.

Krogh alleges that the President voiced concern to him in August 1971 that news leaks were endangering U.S. chances of success in strategic arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union. Krogh did not link this conversation with the decision to break into the psychiatrist's office the following month.

The latter action is thought to have been an attempt to discredit Ellsberg.

Meanwhile, it also has been looked at medical records of President Nixon during the 1972 re-election campaign and also the health files of John F. Kennedy in his successful White House campaign in 1960.

Salvation Army Officer praises flood workers

Volunteers who helped staff the Salvation Army canteen in the flood emergency and the general public who generously gave donations of canned goods, clothing and cash were praised by Captain Ronald J. Kerley, Salvation Army commander, during a meeting of the Advisory Board last week at the Citadel, 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

Mrs. Alvenette Metcalf, newly elected board chairman and her husband, A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, also were commended by the Salvation Army officer, who said the couple "worked diligently in the canteen."

Capt. Kerley noted that a group of cadets from the Salvation Army's training institute in Chicago, who were here for special evangelistic meetings, likewise volunteered their services to help in the emergency.

The St. Louis SA headquarters contributed food and use of a mobile canteen unit to aid local community relief work, he said.

New members of the board were welcomed by Mrs. Metcalf, who introduced Mary

Other board members attending were Roy M. Lynn, Claude Echols, Charles Zeugin and Mrs. Ronald Kerley.

Ruling that jr. college, SIUE could cooperate

Donald D. Ziegls, legal counsel to the Illinois Junior College Board, has ruled that a new junior college in the Quad-City area "could have the authority to make contracts with other governmental agencies for performing the educational functions as provided in the Public Junior College Act and for the use of any buildings and other facilities."

An opinion had been sought to determine what relationship there could be between this area and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Ziegls said the IJC Board could not "legally commit itself to such a continuous policy," but added that each junior college district is locally initiated and administered.

MORE ABOUT Incinerator

for the financing in either case, said, noting that a cost per ton would be charged municipalities using the facilities for retirement of the bonds.

Arnette said he believes use of incinerators is a key step in efforts to solve ecological problems.

The time is rapidly approaching when municipalities and the people must turn to incinerators as the principal means of disposing of garbage and trash, not only because of the large amount of land required for dumping operations, but because of other ecology restrictions," Arnette predicted.

He said the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency staff at Collinsville has taken water samples from flooded areas of Chouteau Island and forwarded them to Springfield for testing. While the test results have not been determined, such precautions indicate there is more concern by health authorities regarding other disposal methods than regarding incineration, Arnette asserted.

Warrior nine wins 2 of 4 games, boost mark to 13-8

GCHS Warriors nailed Assumption here Thursday 5-4, lost at Cahokia on Friday 3-2, and Saturday 5-4 in a double header at home losing the first game 3-2 and then winning 7-1. The Warriors are now 13-8.

In Friday's action Cahokia scored three runs in the first inning on five hits. The Warriors tagged one in the fifth and one in the sixth, on five hits.

Tim Burns was charged with the loss, although according to Garbe, "He pitched a great game; we just did not hit the ball. We would load the bases and let every one die there. Burns allowed no walks, fanned five and gave up only five hits."

Pekin took the first game Saturday, scoring one run in the first inning and two in the top of the seventh on eight hits. Tim Burns scored one run in each of the sixth and seventh innings on 10 hits. GCHS committed five errors.

"This was a boring and long game," Coach Gale Garbe said. "My first five pitchers walked 13 men; it was real bad, but we lucked out."

In the last of the seventh with two out and Assumption in the lead 4-2, Larry Petri had two strikes when he tagged a single. Mike Stanton then singled, Tom Vrenick walked, Mike Martinez singled to score Petri and Duane Atchely singled, sending home the other two runs.

Cong. Price backs transit subsidy

Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) in remarks on the floor of the House of Representatives, told the House members: "I support H.R. 6452, the Urban Mass Transportation Assistance Act. As sponsor of legislation establishing a transportation trust fund, I am pleased that the House has the opportunity to consider H.R. 6452."

"The need for this legislation is evident in the St. Louis metropolitan area, the citizens face the very grim prospect of not having public transportation available to them after June 30 of this year."

This dire emergency can be remedied by this legislation. If the system fails, those citizens who depend upon public transportation will be those who suffer the most."

This bill provides operating assistance funds for transit systems and 80% capital grant assistance. Also, as sponsor of legislation guaranteeing reduced fares for senior citizens, I am pleased that this bill authorizes fare cuts for senior citizens and the handicapped traveling during non-peak hours.

"Additionally, the bill provides for the creation of mass transit advisory councils that will enable the general public to participate in establishing policies and making decisions involving mass transportation service in the areas involved."

"I think it should be noted that this legislation recognizes our nation's total transportation needs. It provides that the transportation needs of communities of 50,000 and less in population must be studied in order to assure that the citizens living in them have adequate public transportation."

"Also, the operating assistance fund formula is designed to reflect the actual transportation needs of the area; therefore, all communities will have an opportunity to participate strongly upon approval of this vitally important measure."

Audit to cost $3,750 to find savings of $3,633

By BOB ESTILL

Copley News Service Springfield — It will cost the taxpayers about $3,750 to find out that architects for the secretary of state's new license plate facility overbilled by $3,633 on two contracts.

Deputy Secretary of State Lawrence Richardson said the firm of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell will bill the state about $3,750 for the special audit.

Secretary of State Michael Howlett ordered the audit after receiving a March 12 memorandum from Norbert Johnson, head of the physical services department of Howlett's office, suggesting the architects, Lester B. Knight and Associates of Chicago, might have overbilled by nearly $4,000.

The auditors found a $3,443 overcharge on one contract and a $190 overcharge on another. Also found the firm hadn't billed for $22,500 on other contracts payable when the work's completed. Who will end up owing is still unresolved since Howlett contends the architects are wholly responsible for a $31,250 design error and the firm contests the amount.

Richardson defended the outlay for the private auditors by saying the deal "was so intertwined, we wanted to make sure" and Howlett felt the best way was by an outside audit.

"The contracts and arrangements were so mixed up we had to have an audit," Richardson said.

The auditors found Johnson had erred in some of his calculations and included as architectural fees a "fee" of $41,895 in "reimbursable expenses" for travel, living, telephones and drawings.

In other Statehouse activities, Meredith Currie, a clerk employed by Controller George Lindberg, and Evelyn Mertz, a Capitol guide employed by Howlett, are trading jobs.

Mrs. Mertz and Lindberg are Republicans and Mrs. Currie and Howlett are Democrats. They worked out the switch so each could be employed by someone in their own party.

Quick, hide your alligator shoes or face $1,000 Fine

By JOAN MURARO

Copley News Service

Springfield — Forget about buying an alligator hideout or a snakeskin watchband, fella; it's illegal now in Illinois.

The "endangered species act" was implemented May 1 after a four-month delay from the original Jan. 1 effective date.

Former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie ordered the delay to permit implementation of provisions of the act, which included formation of a nine-member board to be appointed by the governor.

That board has not been appointed yet, but Conservation Department spokesmen said other implementation measures have been completed and issuing of permits can now begin.

Under the bill, anyone owning all or part of any bird, animal or reptile which has been declared "endangered" and which was acquired before the bill went into effect, must obtain a permit from the department of conservation to own the item.

In the future, it will be illegal to buy, sell or possess any such product, or things and violation of the law carries penalties of $100 to $1,000 in fines, and possible jail sentences of up to one year.

While permits can still be issued for items already in possession of the applicant before the May 1 implementation date, in future the only permits to acquire such items will be to those needing them for zoological, educational or scientific purposes only.

There is no fee for the permit. To obtain it, the applicant must submit a list of items involved, listing the source, the item and the number.

Thus, a householder already owning certain items now banned might fill out the permit application to show possession of three pairs of alligator shoes, four alligator handbags and one polar bear rug.

The permit is good for as long as the product exists, but does not permit the owner to sell or dispose of the product.

The board, when it is appointed by the governor, is to include, under terms of the law, three persons from the fur industry including one who represents labor, and six persons "recognized as naturalists by training, avocation or vocation."

In making appointments the governor is required to give consideration to recommendations from acknowledged conservation groups.

Permit applications can be sent to Vernon M. Kiehn, northern game staff biologist at the State Department of Conservation, Division of Wildlife Resources, Springfield, or to the Chicago office of the Conservation Department, located at 1237 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

Under provisions of the endangered species law, any law enforcement official can issue warrants and search for items or living things which violate the act. In practice however, according to John Warren, the department's education officer, dealers and shops with inventories or supplies of such items will be the targets, rather than the average citizen who has an alligator skin granddaddy shot in 1862.

The items presently on the endangered species list, which can be added to by the board on majority vote, are the leopard, snow leopard, clouded leopard, tiger, cheetah, alligator, crocodile, manatee, sea turtle, and green turtle. Additional creatures on the federal list of endangered species are already automatically banned in Illinois as well.

GCHS trackmen 3rd at Centralia relays

GCHS finished third behind Alton and East St. Louis in the 20-team Centralia relays Saturday at Centralia.

The Warriors picked up first-place honors in four events with Brad Hiles a double winner. He won the shot put with a new school record of 56-11½, and topped the field in the discus at 156-6. Brad Weiss backed him up in the discus, finishing second.

Dave Maclos was tops in the pole vault at 13 feet as the Warriors No. 1 vaulter, Bob Kratz, had a bad day, finishing low in the standings.

The 880-yard relay squad of Kratz, brothers Tom and Rich Schooley and Greg Becker was the fastest of the meet, covering the distance in 1:13.3.

The 440-yard relay squad of Kratz, brothers Tom and Rich Schooley and Greg Becker was second in 1:44.4.

Rich Schooley was third in the high hurdles event. The Warrior mile relay team was third while the low hurdles shuttle relay squad placed fifth.

Spalding tops field in stock car racing

Wib Spalding, of Pontoon Beach who finished fourth in the feature event last week, utilized the same driving skill that carried him to the 1972 track championship, to come from way behind and capture the 25-lap feature event Friday night at Tri-City Speedway.

Spalding, fastest qualifier of the evening with a 28.8-second one-lap time, started the feature event in the last row of the 14-car lineup, and worked his way through the pack to the sixth position by the fourth lap, with Norm Cox of Berkeley, Mo. in the lead.

One lap later Spalding spun in the second corner and had to play catch up in a race that looked like a runaway win for Cox, with last week's feature winner Bill Myers of East Alton running second.

The eighth lap provided the break Spalding needed to close the gap on the field when Cox and Myers, both running side by side in a close battle for the lead, brushed together coming out of the fourth turn, causing Cox to lose control of his race car and spin in front of Howard Ryder of East Alton and John Prior of Centralia.

Ryder's car struck the spinning Cox vehicle and then veered into the front straightaway.

away wall and overturned. The driver was not injured, but the crash brought out the red flag to stop the event and necessitate a restart.

As the green flag fell again, Spalding charged past a tight eight cars into the fourth position and six laps later wrestled the lead away from Cox. From that point on it was Spalding leading the checker flag with Myers second, Prior third, Cox fourth and Louie Janssen of Beulah fifth.

During interruption a 10-lap hobby car race was won by Tom O'Hair of Jerseyville.

Late model stock car action will get underway again with time trials at 7 p.m. and racing at 8 p.m.

Well water from flood areas should be boiled

The Illinois Department of Public Health has cautioned that all water obtained from wells in flooded areas should be boiled for five minutes before it is used for drinking or cooking purposes. Richard Arnold, Regional Engineer, Illinois Department of Public Health, warned that flooded wells should be disinfected after the flood water recedes. "A water well can be disinfected," he explained, "by adding one gallon of chlorine laundry bleach to ten gallons of water and pouring that solution into the well, and allowing it to remain overnight. The well should then be pumped until no chlorine odor can be detected in the water."

After a well has been disinfected, the owner should have a sample of the water tested to insure that it is safe to drink. Water sampling bottles and sampling instructions may be obtained from any local health department or from any one of the state health department laboratories.

Addresses of the state laboratories are: 134 North Ninth Street, Springfield 62706, telephone 217-525-6562; and P.O. Box 2467, Carbondale 62901, telephone 618-457-5131.

Sampling bottles and instructions also may be obtained from the Collinsville Regional Office at 9500 Collinsville Road, Unit E, Collinsville 62234, telephone 618-345-5141.

European peoples in the metropolitan area. It was conducted by Profs. Stanley B. Kimball and John L. Oldani of SIUE. A musical program planned by John Blich featured the Happy Strings Junior Tamburitzans of Madison. It includes many local youths and is directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lusick Jr. of St. Louis.

Rainfall was below normal in April

Even though it seemed to many that it did not stop raining throughout April, precipitation during the month actually was below normal from past years. A total of 3.33 inches fell last month. The average is 3.71 inches.

Massive flooding along the Mississippi River was caused by heavier rains upstream and by concentrations of days of rain during the month, weather bureau officials reported.

The heaviest concentration of rain here was between April 19 and 22 when 1.58 inches fell. Precipitation was measured at .02 of an inch on the 19th, .35 the 20th, .15 the 21st and 1.06 the 22nd.

An earlier concentration of rain occurred when .45 of an inch fell April 15, followed by .40 of an inch the 16th. The only other measurable rainfalls were .05 the 1st, .20 the 2nd, .18 the 4th and .49 the 9th.

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY GARNER. They were married in an early evening ceremony at Nameoki United Methodist Church. She is the former Miss Diana Lee Burris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lee Burris, 2414 Wilson Ave.

Garner-Burris nuptials at Nameoki Methodist

Miss Diana Lee Burris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lee Burris, 2414 Wilson Ave., and Anthony Allen Garner, 100 Sand Road, Route Six, Edwardsville, were united in marriage April 14 at 7 o'clock in the evening at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The groom is a son of Fred Garner, 1227 E. 6th St., Alton, and Mrs. Alyce Merz, 808 W. Del Rio, Chandler, Ariz.

White satin bows on the pews, bouquets of spring flowers in a variety of colors and lighted tapers provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Roy L. Baugh, pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Miss Christy Ashcraft presided at the organ, playing "Theme from Love Story" and "Theme from Romeo and Juliet." She also accompanied Paul Nabry as he sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of Chantilly lace designed with a molded bodice, featuring a scalloped neckline, and long tapered sleeves terminating at wrists in points.

Her very full skirt was fashioned of Chantilly lace tiers that extended into a full sweep train. She wore a bouffant veil of bridal illusion secured to a matching lace headpiece. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white carnations accented with greenery.

Miss Sharon Ann Rawlings, maid of honor, was gownned in a burgundy and pink chiffon gown designed with a velvet vest. A floral trim accented the scoop neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of deep burgundy carnations and foliage festooned with velvet streamers matching her dress.

The bridesmaids chose identically styled frocks in different colors. Miss Joni Kay Miller wore aqua and turquoise and Miss Barbara Ann Burris, a sister of the bride, was in moss and lime green.

Their colonial bouquets were arrangements of carnations in the wedding colors.

Scott Allen Botkin, a cousin of the bride, served as ring-bearer and escorted the little flower girl, Elizabeth Ann Wilson, the groom's cousin. She wore a pink and white gown and carried a white basket filled with pink carnation petals.

Attending the groom as best man was Anthony Michael Vitale, James Partridge and Kevin Lee Garner, a brother of the groom, were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Glen Williams and Terry Burris, a brother of the bride.

Serving as acolytes were Eric Wilson and Randy Botkin, cousins to the bride and groom.

Both mothers wore pink floor-length gowns and pink carnation corsages.

Guests were received by the bridal couple at a reception at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall, Pontoon Beach, immediately following the ceremony.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Garner are residing in Edwardsville following a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

Both graduated from Granite City High School. Mr. Garner attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for two years and is now employed at Granite City Steel Co.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
CORNISH HENS ARE BACK. Here's one item that we are still able to offer at the old, old, price. They are probably the best MEAT buy in the store. With Bar-B-Q time here, it might be a good idea to try these on your pit or especially on your rotisserie if you have one. Our meat manager John Meinke tells us that they are great on the rotisserie. Oh yes, the price 99¢ each. Buy them by the case and save even more; $7.99 for a case of 12. You can figure one hen for each person who is starved, and one hen for each two with normal appetites.
If you didn't try our cooked fish steaks because you were leary of buying 33 in a case for $3.99, we are packaging them this week 8 in a pkg. for 99¢. That figures down to 50¢ per lb. for cooked fish which is cheaper than raw fish. Try some this week and then invest in the case of 33. Just heat and serve.
Herman is in Dallas Texas at the Super Market Institute looking at the new electronic registers. We are very interested in these new registers since they will provide our customers with so much more information on their register receipt and also enable us to separate our merchandise into more departments so that you can check your tape more easily. Lots of other good features that we will be telling you about when we make a decision about the registers.

AUGUST BRIDE-TO-BE, Miss Frances Lucille Jenkins, who will be united in marriage Aug. 10 with Gerold Worms of O'Fallon. Their engagement is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Jenkins of Edwardsville.

MRS. DAN HOCKING, the former Miss Diane Kowalczyk, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Kowalczyk, 1622 Seventh St., Madison, who was married at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Saturday evening.

Diane Kowalczyk wed in afternoon ceremony

Aisle tapers and altar candles illuminated St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison as Miss Diane M. Kowalczyk became the bride of Dan D. Hocking of Jacksonville, Ill., Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Sylvester Mike officiated.

Miss Kowalczyk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Kowalczyk, 1622 Seventh St., Madison. Mr. Hocking is the son of Mrs. Charles Hamm of Jacksonville and of Howard Hocking of Liberty, Ill.

Greenery and baby breath adorned the white-carpeted aisle. The altar was highlighted with large bouquets of white stock, blue mums and baby breath. The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding, Miss Kowalczyk chose a gown in Candlelight silk organza with a combination of Cluny and Venise lace.

The bodice, designed with Victorian neckline, was of lace which extended over the shoulder to accent full bishop sleeves. The waistline was defined by lace over satin ribbon finished with a tailored bow and long streamers.

Her floor-length skirt, which swept into a chapel train, was bordered with three rows of ruffled lace.

A veil of illusion cascaded from a beaded lace cap and the bride carried a colonial bouquet of blue statice, stephanotis, baby breath and an orchid corsage, festooned with blue velvet streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Vrabec, and the attendants, Miss Judy Kowalczyk, sister of the bride, JoAnn Labory, cousin of the bride, Janet Brink and Verma Schmidt, cousin of the bride, were dressed alike in long blue chiffon gowns.

Each gown was fashioned with an Empire bodice, high ruffled lace neckline and long full sleeves with lace at the cuff. The front bib of each dress had multicolored silk embroidered flowers with tiny covered buttons and was outlined with ruffled lace.

Satin ribbon encircled each Empire waistline, with a back bow and streamers down the long skirt. Each attendant wore a lace Carrollet cap securing a matching veil.

They carried colonial bouquets of white daisies, multi-colored ribbon and blue velvet streamers. The maid of honor carried a similar bouquet featuring baby breath.

The flower girl was Patricia Petrosky, a niece of the bride, and the ring bearer was Steven Petrosky.

Dressed in a frock identical in style to those of the other attendants, the flower girl carried a white lace basket filled with multi-colored flowers and baby breath.

The groom chose Monty Bradney as best man. Groomsmen were Terry Seckir, cousin of the groom, John Bunk, Chuck Rebeck and Mike Long. Ed Kowalczyk, cousin of the bride, and Mike Johnson, seated guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kowalczyk selected a full-length gown of pink silk polyester designed with long sheer sleeves and complemented with lace at the neckline and cuffs. She had matching accessories.

The groom's mother chose a formal-length gown of light blue polyester with long sheer sleeves and accented with braided trim. Her accessories were white.

Both mothers were presented white cocktail orchids. The musical program, consisting of "We've Only Just Begun," "Wedding Song," "The Lord's Prayer," Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Wilder Thou Guest" and "Sunrise, Sunset," was provided by Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw, organist, and Mrs. Margaret MacZura, soloist.

Before departing for their wedding trip to Colorado and Arizona, the newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception held at the Polish Hall.

A graduate of St. Teresa Academy in Edwardsville and the bride attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and was employed at the Lerner Shop in St. Louis.

The groom graduated from Jacksonville High School and is currently attending Illinois College. He is employed at Ideal Bakery in Jacksonville.

While he continues his education, the young couple will reside at No. 1 Pleasant View, Jacksonville.

Alpha Xi aids flood victims

Alpha Xi Chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority made plans to collect canned foods and money to be donated to flood victims at a meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Carol Poole, 2337 Lynch Ave.

After the business session "Founders Day" was observed. A proclamation was read by Mrs. Mary Modica about the Epsilon Sigma Alpha week observance.

Past yearbooks of the sorority were displayed and games were in keeping with chapter projects. Each member received a prize.

Favors were small domes filled with spring flowers and the table centerpiece was a jonniqu basket.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Joyce Albers, Connie Grubbs, Barbara Orris, Pat Lalich, Gerry Mendez, Kathy Dohal, Carol Grimm, Pat Scherris, Betty Collegen and Miss Betty Busatch. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Collegen in Edwardsville.

Three gathered flounces formed the hemline and swept to the back of the gown creating an apron effect with a bustle.

She wore a flat bow headpiece to secure a shoulder-length bouffant veil and she held a colonial bouquet of spring flowers and ivy.

This astonishing eyeglass HEARING AID

HELPS YOU HEAR WITH NOTHING IN YOUR EAR

It is now possible for thousands of people to enjoy hearing again with nothing in either ear. NO buttons, NO tubes, NO wires, nothing in either ear. For thousands this aid may prove to be the best possible way to hear next to nature's own ears. Instead of forcing amplified sound through the impaired outer or middle ear, the patented "Rx-880" utilizing bone conduction, delivers sound directly to the "hearing center," the inner ear. For many, even this technique may not be the answer. You must try it if you ever to know.

The "Rx-880" is the result of 33 years of research. Made possible by a marvelous transistor - a device known as the Bell Telephone Laboratories. To discover if the "Rx-880" can help you, write today to: ROBINSON ELECTRONICS, 806 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo. 63101 or Phone CH 1-0438.

Whether as opportunist or man of courage, depending on one's viewpoint, Percy moving toward 1976 race on Watergate issue

Comment by the Press-Record writer in Washington—Sen. Charles H. Percy is running dead last in the Gallup Poll behind odds-on Republican favorites Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Gov. Ronald Reagan and he must become more nationally known to overtake them in the 1976 presidential sweepstakes.

Given one version of political wisdom that an effective campaign takes two years, crammed mostly into nine months, the Illinois senator will have time going into the November 1975 clubhouse turn to register the Percy colors on the national eye. Watergate may already have helped him in the paddock.

George Gallup says Percy trails not in the voters' field of five top choices, but also in name awareness among Republicans.

Gallup's standings: Agnew 35%, Reagan 20%, former Treasury Secy. John Connally 15%, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller 11% and Percy, 8%. On name awareness, the required 1975 90%, Reagan and Rockefeller 85%, Connally 71%, James Buckley 55% and Percy, 54%.

If a crowded news conference is an index, Percy last week had one of his best changes to project his image, via a handy gathering in the Senate press gallery.

Percy slammed Watergate hard, calling it a "crisis" that would have brought down this administration had it been under parliamentary government.

He called for a special prosecutor outside the executive department, with subpoena powers to "trace every single dollar" of campaign contributions before April 7, 1973, the required disclosure date. He followed this up with a Senate resolution that passed the day after President Nixon's broadcast to the nation.

He said all politicians "must put a top priority on the national and all corporate income tax returns 'ought to be opened' to ferret out campaign backbiting by big business."

Percy blasted the "selling of ambassadorial posts" for campaign contributions.

He excoriated John Ehrlichman and H. R. Haldeman as President Nixon's "worst enemies" in the White House and disclosed their apparently heavy-handed attempts to "intimidate" him on independence from the record.

He preempted Agnew with kind words for the press.

He praised Sen. Barry Goldwater, the conservative Republican, for his "credible credentials" which warning to the White House to open Watergate or suffer a Republican debacle got credit as a GOP catalyst.

Percy dissociated the Republican National Committee from the "disastrous" doings of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President.

He urged that "no emotion becloud" nor "sense of vengeance" darken proceedings against men for a "tragic mistake of judgment," and he expressed deep compassion for their families and children.

Finally, Percy said whether Republican will be "punished" for Watergate lies with the electorate.

"I believe in the fairness of the American people," he said.

Not a bad day's work in projection; Percy got national play.

Before the news conference, Percy had been asked for comment on his Gallup standing.

"I'm not grinning," there's no place to go but up.

St. Louis paper says Poelker knew better but was pressured into opposing Illinois airport as a 'crass political payoff'

Comment Friday by St. Louis Post-Dispatch writer Paul Poelker, "St. Louis Mayor Poelker's withdrawal of St. Louis's support for an east side airport is a crass political payoff and a betrayal of the city's best interests."

We had thought Mr. Poelker had the backbone to resist the pressures of the influential downtown businessmen who financed his campaign and who have been determined for selfish reasons, to kill the proposed Illinois airport facility and the community's hopes for growth in air transportation.

It is a sad turn of events, for Mr. Poelker knows better.

When Mayor Cervantes teamed up with Gov. Ogilvie of Illinois to sponsor the site near Columbia-Waterloo, Comptroller Poelker properly added his support. He was right, and conditions have not changed; only Mr. Poelker has.

The new mayor temporized on the issue during his campaign for office, and now he is paying off his financial angels. Maybe that is just politics, but Mr. Poelker was supposed to be different.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Poelker's defection may turn out to be of minor consequence. He cannot alter the facts that Lambert Field cannot practically be enlarged and that there is no alternative site in Missouri. The federal government knows this and the airlines know it. And Illinois leaders know it.

Sen. Percy: 'Should executive investigate itself?'

By LESTER BELL
Copley News Service

President Nixon and Sen. Charles H. Percy with apparent finality have ended what at best was a tenuous relationship.

The break came over the Illinois Republican's insistence on a special Watergate prosecutor from outside the executive branch, which the president angrily denounced in private as a "political play" targeted at 1976.

The parting of their uneasy alliance also caused what Sen. Charles H. Percy of Texas left the Democrats with whom he was no longer comfortable to cast his lot with the Republicans.

Connally's crossover now pits him against Percy in the Republican race for the Presidential nomination, a potential contest in which Nixon vows Percy can expect no support from him.

An anonymous Administration source said the President at his Cabinet meeting Tuesday referred "rather blithely" to Percy's "political play" in demanding appointment of a special Watergate prosecutor.

The President reportedly observed that he had given Attorney General-designate Elliot L. Richardson full authority to name such a prosecutor if it appeared advisable and that Percy should not be making the decision for either one.

White House reporter Aldo Beckman of the Chicago Tribune reported that an "obviously angry" President told the closed Cabinet meeting that such critics of Watergate, "such as Sen. Percy, have the 1976 Presidential campaign as their target."

"As long as I have anything to say about it," Mr. Nixon was quoted, "He won't reach that target."

While waiting to testify Wednesday on behalf of a bill he introduced in Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, are co-sponsoring to encourage states to reform property tax administration, Percy nevertheless, he replied to questions, "not since a private talk in 1968 or the end of 1967. We were talking about the '68 race. We met and he was considered a credible candidate. I told him I was not."

Percy said if his resolution for a special prosecutor is a "political play"

'How man can live, work and play in harmony with his environment' theme of next world exposition

America's first world exposition on the environment will open in Spokane, Washington, in May 1974.

Expo '74, themed to the environment and outdoor recreation, has been approved by the Bureau of International Expositions in Paris and by President Richard M. Nixon on behalf of the United States government.

In a ceremony on the banks of the Spokane River, local, state and federal officials have joined with mayors of 24 eastern Washington communities, leaders of the Spokane Indian tribe and the people of the Spokane area to mark the occasion.

With major participation of foreign and domestic governments and other exhibitors, Expo '74 promises to be a compact but dazzling world's fair in a picture book setting.

Carefully being planned for a 100-acre site adjacent to the heart of Spokane, the $60,000,000 exposition encompasses two islands, the banks of the Spokane River and rapids of the cascading Spokane River.

In keeping with the environmental theme, the building of the exposition will in itself be a massive riverfront redevelopment and rehabilitation project.

Railroads that now intersect the site will be removed and bridges demolished to revitalize the area into an exciting exposition site, with the post-fair legacy to be one of America's most beautiful urban park and civic centers.

Expo '74 opens May 1 for a six-month run through October. It is expected to attract over 4,500,000 gate admissions.

Many of these visitors will be touring the Pacific Northwest, making Spokane a major stop on a complete regional vacation.

The Pacific Northwest area is blessed with more natural parks and other recreational areas than any other part of the United States.

Spokane, located 290 miles west of Seattle and near Idaho and Canada, is in the heart of this richly rewarding vacationland.

The theme of Expo '74 covers both environmental concern and outdoor recreation.

How man can live, work and play in harmony with his environment? This the story of Expo '74, a new concept related to stimulate greater understanding of the world's environmental problems and how they can be solved.

The dimensions of the Expo theme have sparked commitment to the Spokane River Basin Reclamation project, a joint project by the states of Washington and Idaho involving 120 miles of river flowing through the two states.

This project can serve as a model for water depletion efforts and water quality management for the entire nation and the world, it is believed.

The relationship between man and his surrounding natural environment, including problems, the progress and future reclamation, will be carried out in a host of pavilions and exhibits.

Scientists and future reclamation efforts in the theme and the unique site already has been high at meetings of world exposition planners in Europe, the Orient and at home.

Thus, a very healthy participation from foreign and domestic nations, associations and industries is anticipated.

The United States Pavilion, now in the planning stage, will be a major statement by this nation of its environmental concerns.

A major Washington State Pavilion is under way, as are many other necessities of any world's fair—amusements, theaters, exotic food centers, special events and all the high-intensity hoopla that adds up to Expo excitement.

Planning is moving ahead in Spokane, once a lively Western frontier town and now a bustling urban center in the midst of the State of Washington's, and America's, most spectacular and scenic outdoors.

And the exposition planners have a lot going for them.

They are benefiting from close study of nearby Seattle's successful world's fair in 1962 and are bent on capitalizing on years of cascading beauty, superb site, a timely theme and mounting community spirit to build a winner for Spokane.

An example of the commitment to the environmental theme is in the Expo site itself.

It includes 100 acres of riverbank, two islands and the Spokane River with its spectacular falls in the heart of the city.

Scattered by the haphazard inroads of 100 years of urban progress, the area was recently a tangle of railroad tracks and bridges, dilapidated buildings, housing warehouses and skid row drifter havens.

The once-beautiful river channel, long ago filled and covered over and obscured by buildings as the city grew outward from the waterfront.

Today, the whole 100 acres is being reclaimed and is being transformed into a living expression of what is possible in bringing about the rebirth of the core of a city.

Expo '74 will be the first exposition in the country to feature extensive areas of grass, shrubs and trees or shaded walkways which link pavilion, plaza and amusement areas with quiet pools, riverside paths and rest areas.

The outdoor recreation theme of the United States Pavilion reflects one of the reasons for having an exposition of this type in Spokane.

Poco-Expo use of the federal pavilion will be an artfully arranged National Park and Recreation Center and Environmental and Recreation Education Center to tell visitors about the outdoor attractions surrounding Spokane.

These include Glacier and Yellowstone Parks, the Montana and Canadian Rockies, Banff Jasper and Garibaldi Parks, Olympic National Park, Mount Rainier, the Columbia Gorge, Oregon's Crater Lake, and the Sisters and Blue Mountain areas.

For six months, from May to October in 1974, Expo '74 will have a chance to show the world that progress without pollution is possible.

Scientists, ecologists, industry and government and the best of entertainment and communication techniques will be combined to show how our fragile earth—with only limited resources—has unlimited ability to renew itself—can reach for a harmonious balance of man and environment.

Appoint "an individual of character and integrity outside the executive branch to serve as special prosecutor." Anderson does not demand Senate confirmation.

The effect of his resolution is simply to urge Richardson to use quickly the authority President Nixon has already given him.

Sen. Percy continues to maintain that he intends no reflection on the President or Richardson; he praises the latter highly.

"A simple, very basic question is at issue," Percy contends. Should the executive branch investigate itself? "I do not think so, and neither do a majority of my colleagues."

New proposal for Atlantic mutual security charter

Copley News Service

The administration's outline of a new Atlantic charter assuredly will rank as a watershed proposal in the efforts for peace by North Atlantic nations.

It is by no means, however, a startling departure from the character and development of the alliance that has prevented hostilities in the West for nearly a quarter of a century.

Indeed, to those who recall the stumbling peace-making efforts of the immediate post-World War II period, the temperature of what eventually became known as the "cold war" is remarkably the same today as then.

There then was a spirit of détente which culminated in signing of the United Nations Organization charter at San Francisco in June of 1945.

The time was just seven weeks after the capitulation of Nazi Germany and six weeks before the first Western atomic bomb fell on Hiroshima.

Nearly all statesmen believed that peace was inevitable. Before very long, it was evident that the Soviet Union had no intention of slowing its nation-grabbing efforts.

Concerned, 10 Western European nations turned to the United States and Canada for help and nearly four years later, on April 4, 1949, the North Atlantic Treaty pledging mutual defense cooperation was signed.

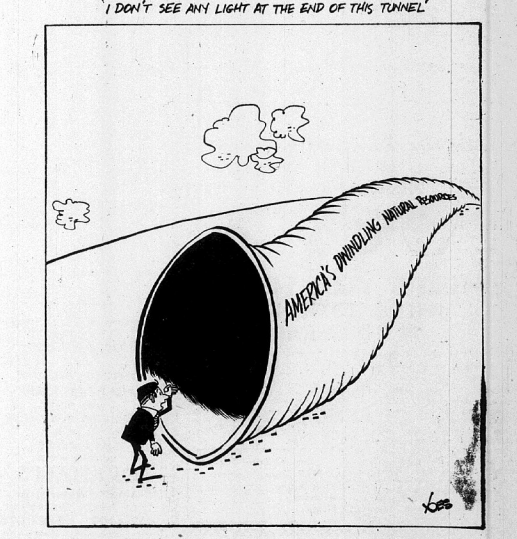

Contrary to some popular opinion today, the treaty was not entirely military in nature, nor was it intended to be static.

The 12 signatory nations recognized that military defenses had to be underpinned by economic security and continuing political cooperation.

Thus the North Atlantic Treaty Organization grew flexibly with the need.

In short order, it added other nations, such as Greece, Turkey and West Germany.

It met successfully the age-old question: "I DON'T SEE ANY LIGHT AT THE END OF THIS TUNNEL"

Sacred Heart scene of Hediger-Fichte wedding

Miss Barbara Jean Fichte, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Fichte, 2601 Cleveland Blvd., and Nelson Edward Hediger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson R. Hediger, 2601 Stratford Lane, were married in a 2 o'clock nuptial mass Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn was assisted by the Rev. Dr. Paul Stueber, pastor of St. John United Church of Christ, in performing the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with large white floral arrangements, and burning tapers entwined with vines and spring flowers marked the pews.

Russell Borth sang "Sunrise, Sunset." "Let the Whole World Know," "Song of Mary," "Wedding Song," "Love One Another" and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied by the organist, James Havranek, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Fichte escorted her daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She chose an ivory silk organza gown designed with an Empire bodice of re-embraced Alencon lace etched with pearls and iridescent sequins on English net. The wedding was high and the long sleeves featured deep ruffled French cuffs, banded with lace and pearls.

The long slightly full skirt was lavishly accented with jeweled lace appliques and a scalloped hemline was traced with lace and pearls. A full sweep detachable train fell gently from a self fabric belt and was enhanced with bejeweled motifs.

She wore a re-embroidered Alencon lace profile headpiece sprinkled with pearls to secure her full-length veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white cocktail orchids.

Mrs. Maryann Schicker, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Kim Stueber, a cousin of the groom, Mrs. Mary Willis, Mrs. Carol Reasor and Miss Carole Wickman, the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids.

They wore identical frocks of pink organza with a shimmering tulle. The natural waistlines were encircled with sashes of tulle, terminating in a tailored bow, and the bodices had ruffling at the jeweled necklines. Ruffling formed a yoke at the neck and four matching ruffles created the cape sleeves.

Their softly gathered floor-length skirts were finished with a wide flounce at the hemlines. Each attendant wore a crown of fresh flowers in her hair and held a colonial bouquet of multi-colored flowers and pink roses.

Jerry Doyle attended the bridegroom as best man, Scott Stueber, a cousin of the groom, Gary Denny, Gary McIlroy, Tony Schicker, a brother-in-law of the bride, James Wickman, the bride's cousin and Edward Weston, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers. Danny Fichte, a cousin of the bride, and Richard Koishor served as altar boys and Misses Terry and Barbara Hediger, cousins of the groom, distributed rice packets at the end of the service and presided at the guest book.

An evening reception at 6 o'clock was given at the Croation Hall in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Hediger, parents of the groom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fichte selected a long gown of powder blue pure silk shantung, designed with a rolled beaded collar and a band of beaded trim encircling the waistline. Her accessories were in a matching shade.

Mrs. Hediger, mother of the groom, was attired in peach-colored chiffon over tulle. The formal-length gown featured a lace-trimmed bodice with beading and long sheer sleeves. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School and the University of Illinois at Edwardsville. She presently is a substitute business teacher in Granite City school system. Mr. Hediger, also a Granite City High School graduate, attended SIUE. He is owner and manager of the Lord Nelson's Store.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the couple will reside in Granite City.

Sacred Heart parents elect

Officers for 1973-74 were elected by the Sacred Heart Parent-Teacher Organization, which convened last week at the school for the final meeting of the current school year.

Plans were made during the business session to purchase World Book Encyclopedias for the primary grades, a set of Resonator Bells and a piano for the gymnasium. It was announced that the May 26 scholastic at Chain of Rocks Park will go on sale this week.

Sister Patricia's first grade class won the prize for having the largest attendance of parents. After the meeting refreshments were served in the cafeteria by the first and second grade room mothers. Meetings will be resumed in August.

Alleys, streets cleaned as restoration project

A neighborhood "Spring Cleanup" campaign sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society to coincide with the national "Keep America Beautiful" day, has been completed here with 31 persons participating in the residential project.

The workers included 24 members of the DNRS, six student council members from Central Junior High School with their sponsor, Jake Varadian.

Debris in 27 blocks of alleys and streets was collected by the group, filling 88 litterbags, five barrels and a dozen cardboard boxes.

The successful venture, first of its kind planned by the Society, was aided in the cleanup by local ministers, a businessman and Anheuser-Busch Co., which donated the litter bags.

G. H. Sternberg & Co. donated a dump truck to pick up the trash deposited on the parking lot of the First United Presbyterian Church with the permission of the Rev. David Maxton, pastor.

Truck loads of trash were then transferred to city trucks provided by Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets.

After the work detail was completed, the volunteer workers gathered at the grounds of St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church at the invitation of the Rev. Wilbur Lear and enjoyed a picnic lunch.

SPICK-AND-SPAN ALLEYS in the 2100 block of Delmar Ave. where a group of young people assisted in the Spring Cleanup project sponsored by The Downtown Neighborhood Society, during the weekend. Many of the workers were children of members of the society and others were student council members representing Central Junior High School.

I'M MAT MATSON
President of

... and I'd like to introduce you to two members of Our Sales Organization, who I expect will be around for a good many years.

NICK HUNIAK

Like the rest of Our Salespeople, Nick lives in Granite City. Nick knows the people of the area. Nick knows cars. Nick likes cars, and people like Nick. He'll tell you about our cars and give you his own appraisal of yours. He's young and ambitious and is anxious to count you among his regular customers in the future.

STEVE RAINS

Steve is in charge of Our Leasing and Rental Department. A graduate of the Univ. of Missouri, Steve received his background in vehicle leasing at one of St. Louis' larger lease firms. Steve believes in leasing, but if he can't convince you of its advantages, he'll show you ways to save money on the purchase of a new Plymouth, Chrysler or Imperial.

I'll guarantee you that you won't find two nicer guys in the automobile business! They're just two more reasons why our dealership is the place to come; whether it's for sales, service or leasing - You'll like us! We're the EXTRA CARE PEOPLE!

Auxiliary police aid in flood emergency

Twenty-two Granite City auxiliary police officers contributed a total of 700 hours of volunteer services during the recent flood emergency, Civil Defense Director Victor H. Koenig of Granite City reported today.

Nine ALERT team communications personnel worked "around the clock" during the relief work period, Koenig said, adding that 48 members of the citizen's band radio group contributed many hours when needed to boost the emergency communication network.

The local CD official paid special tribute to members of Faith Chapel General Baptist Church of Mitchell of whom he commented — "Those people were tremendous. They worked constantly along with their minister, the Rev. Muri Woods, at sandbagging or preparing food."

Koenig said members of the congregation immediately offered use of the church premises to house evacuees, and during the first flood emergency the building was equipped with blankets and cots from civil defense supplies.

"They also offered to dismiss a revival being conducted at the church at that time should we believe it was necessary," the CD officer said.

Le Fevre named to head Capital Development Board

A Midwest construction executive with International Business Machines has been named executive director of the Illinois Capital Development Board.

The board announced that Donald R. Le Fevre, who had been Midwest manager for real estate and construction for IBM, will be the new head of the agency.

In his former position with IBM, Le Fevre was responsible for site location, engineering and alterations and renovations for a 17-state area.

Gov. Dan Walker said: "In Le Fevre, the state is obtaining the services of an outstanding business executive. The Capital Development Board is charged with the responsibility of selecting and supervising the construction of all major public projects."

Le Fevre has absorbed a substantial decrease in income. He will be paid $40,000 annually.

He previously served as national program manager of IBM building operations and as manager of the estimating and scheduling departments, with responsibility for $350 million in yearly building-cost estimates.

From 1956 through 1966, the 40-year-old executive was employed by Burns and Roe, Inc., as assistant chief estimator, working on several major power plant projects as well as extensive work on NASA's Project Mercury.

Le Fevre studied engineering at the State University of New York and is a member of the American Association of Cost Engineers.

He is a director of the Greater North Michigan Avenue Association, Chicago, and the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago.

He is a veteran of two years service with the U. S. Navy. Le Fevre and his wife, Marie, are the parents of one son. Formerly of Riverwoods, they will reside in Springfield.
